Teucrium ETFs Distribution Disclosure

Investing involves substantial risks, including the risk of loss of principal. Investors should consider the investment objectives, risks, charges, and expenses of the Fund carefully before investing. For additional information, including the prospectus and summary prospectus, which outline investment details, visit www.teucrium.com. Please read the prospectus and summary prospectus carefully before investing.

The majority, and possibly all, of these distributions will be derived from net investment income earned by the Teucrium ETFs, if applicable. Some or all of the distribution may include capital gains, return of capital, or other sources.

The amount and frequency of distributions paid by each Fund may vary over time. Monthly and annual distributions from a Fund are not guaranteed and may change based on market conditions, Fund performance, and other factors. Past distributions do not guarantee future payments.

Teucrium does not provide legal, tax, or accounting advice. Any statements related to U.S. tax matters within this communication are not intended or written to be used, and cannot be used, for the purpose of avoiding penalties imposed on taxpayers. Investors should seek independent tax advice regarding their personal circumstances before investing.

The principal risks of investing in Teucrium ETFs include, but are not limited to, market, economic, political, sector-specific risks, and risks associated with investing in commodities, derivatives, and futures contracts. Additionally, risks may include fluctuations in net asset value, concentration risk, counterparty risk, credit risk, and liquidity risk. Commodities and futures investments can involve heightened volatility and significant potential for loss. Investors should carefully review the specific risks outlined in each Fund's prospectus.
